As your path gets narrow

See this is not the gospel that has been preached, but it will be preached and it will be demonstrated with massive signs and wonders and with massive demonstration of love and dedication. And the true gospel is the only gospel that will ever work. Man-made gospel cannot take you through the times that you 're living in. So you are on a journey to discover truth. So be patient with you, be patient with one another, but give yourself fully to the truth that you see.

You don't have permission to look to the right or to look to the left. As your path gets narrow you will have moments, you will have month and some of you may have years where you only will have one thing and that's My voice and nobody else's voice. And I am doing this to cleanse you and I do this to glorify Myself in you. So rejoice, because this is very good. It will take you into the fullness of joy that you never heard of before.
