

Desire being fulfilled

This is the time of desire being fulfilled. The desire of your heart, you will see it coming to pass. You have wondered for a long time, how it's gone happen. But be assured it's gone come to pass. But it is not only your desire that's gone come to pass, it is the fathers desire that is gone come to pass. For his desire always has been to win, to win back his people. So you will see amongst the people of god in this nation a hunger and a desire to return to the truth and to return to the first love. And you truly will be surprised.

But the fathers desire also to reach this nation and bring in the harvest, that desire will be fulfilled as well. So rejoice, because you are included. This is your time to see your desire fulfilled. You asked, how is it gone happen? Well you will truly be overcome by his presence. You will be truly overcome by the presence of god. It will be too much for your mind. Many times your intellect will not know how to do that. But you are not supposed to follow your intellect, hahaha, but your spirit. So keep the peace in your heart. The prince of peace is about to reign in your life. You think you have many different desires, but your main desire is for his kingdom to rule in your heart. And the prince of peace, the prince of peace is about to take full rulership in your life.

So you will enter into a dimension of peace that you never knew about. And it will be your foundation for success. It will be your foundation to receive further instructions. And you will not be moved from it anymore. If you yield to the spirit within the next 6 to 8 weeks, haha, you will enter into a peace that's gone be more then you ever dreamed about. Around you things might change in the negative way, but within you, you will have greater victory than ever before. And because of that, you are becoming my answer. You are becoming my answer for the people in darkness. You're becoming my answer for the people in bondage. Because you already know, that you have been send. You already know, that you have been called. Not just to sit and wait, but to go and to release and to speak the truth.

So rejoice, because you will see desire being fulfilled in these days. This nation will be surprised, everybody will be surprised, you will be surprised. But you already have insight information. So just every day, look out for the voice of the spirit speaking to you. Everything he speaks is of utmost importance. Take it seriously into your heart.

And the joy, and the joy, and the joy. The joy, the joy, the joy is gone increase. Because without joy you will not gone make it. So as you learn to yield to the holy spirit and to move in the holy spirit, you have to yield to the joy at the same time. Don't think that you look smart, because you don't have joy. Within the presence of god you don't look smart without you. So become smart and yield to the joy. Joy beyond measure. Hahahahaha. Glory be to God. Hallelujah.
