I am yours and you are mine

When you truly come to understand that you are Mine, you enter a realm of rest. You begin to understand that because you belong to Me, you are My responsibility. As My child, you come to understand that I am a responsible Father, a Father who can be trusted with the outcome of your life in all circumstances you find yourself in. It is not so much what you have been taught – that you are My possession, so I own you: a “slavery” mentality. I want you to know that you are Mine. You are My child – My responsibility. It is My good pleasure to care for you – to love you, to nurture you, to see to it that you have what you need to grow and flourish in all I have created you for, both to do and to be.

My owning you as a “slave” is your decision – the place where you come to understand it is good in My house, in My household, to the point that you are so free, free to lay your life down in My love and My plan for you. For you will enter into the place of understanding that as My child, I have your complete and total well-being, your desired haven of rest, because I love you, you are free to love Me and then to love others the way you love Me.
