

It is my longing to teach and to train you

- translated into English -

It is my longing to teach and to train you in the paths you should go. And for you to understand, the manner how I teach and how I guide you to hear my voice clearly and to understand my paths. For the longing in your heart for more, which you have expressed again and again, that longing I am more than ready to still and satisfy it.

But that those things can happen, it's necessary for you to understand how I teach and how I guide you. And often you have been looking for guidance through circumstances or for guidance through the things that other people say. And yes, I use all this, but the way I will teach you, is through my voice in your heart. Therefore, take heed to what you hear my voice saying in your heart.

And if I call you to holiness, and if I call you to a pure walk, it is necessary so that your conscience might be pure and your heart might be open. For many who tried to follow me couldn't hear or couldn't hear precisely, because their conscience wasn't pure and open anymore. So accept my invitation, which is the answer to your longing and allows me to teach you. Allow me to train you.

In many ways you will walk on paths that others have been walking on. But at the same time you will tread on paths that no one, from the people you know, has been walking on before. And I want you to gain safety, that it is me who is leading and guiding you. For as it is the longing of your heart to capture new ground and to push towards new dimensions, which you have only been dreaming about by now, the same way it's my longing to bring you in those dimensions.

So do not despise the day of small beginnings. And do not despise the days of training and teaching and of the school that you are in – were you will hear my voice in more and more things. And the things that seemed to be only small steps for you aren't as small as you think, but they are actually giant steps in my training of your ability to hear and to follow me. I call you to maturity. I call you to maturity and I call you out of the phase of being a child, into the perfect man.

Therefore it is my longing that you may hear my voice and that you know me. And that you carry conviction in your heart according to my vision. A conviction that no one can give you and a conviction that no one can take from you. Almost too many times my kids have been standing on the shores of revival, on the shores of new dimensions, but the insecurity in their hearts to go further than what is familiar; the insecurity to go into the deep flow of the Spirit, has stopped many again and again. So therefore know, the training that you are experiencing now is important. Not only for your future, but also for all the things I am going to do in this country.