

More change is about to appear

Seeds have been sown. Changes have been made in the natural and in the spirit and even more change is about to appear on a national level and right here. Because the Spirit of the Lord does not regret or fail anything He said; everything He said will actually prevail. His goodness and His mercy are new like the morning dawn and we will see His compassion as He opens a brand new door.

So rejoice in your labor, rejoice in your tears, because He is faithful and He is here. He never forsook you, He never forgot all you invested and all the fight you went through. He is still the God of great miracles. He is still the God of great love. Yet He will never change, He will never change.

So again rejoice, rejoice, because your salvation is near. The king of kings will soon appear in your day to day life. The light of His presence will shine not just for you, but for those around a new day is here. And yes He is looking and He desires for those who fully trust to put aside all idols and all other gods; for His love is furious and His fire does not cease. He does not share His glory with any man or even a beast. And whatever the plans of the enemy are His praise will be greater. You can be sure, His praise will be greater. No other name will be exalted, no other thing to stand only His name and His truth forever. Amen.