

14. April 2015

The explosion

- translated into English -

I have a wonderful picture and it is of a stick of dynamite. And the Lord says, you are this dynamite. But it is useless if it is only laying around. And it is also not really dangerous if it is only laying around and the fuse is not in it and the fire doesn't come to inflame it. And this is what the Lord intends for you. If you give yourself to him, he will put in the fuse. He is ready and the fire is glowing and is only waiting to spark. Hallelujah.

And he doesn't want us to stay in these rooms. We shouldn't think small. We shouldn't build a church as they have been built in the past, with bricks that we would coop ourselves here and remain only amongst us, but it should be a church without bricks. And we should go out. This light needs to be in the darkness. This is what the light is designed for. If you are His servant, you are His light.