

Seek My Face

I heard you say: Seek my face! And my heart answers: Your face will I seek. It is in the little steps that you take. It's not in the big one that you think. It is in the small ones, that you can take. And you will go and you will flourish. And as you do, you will not only see my beauty, but you will see the beauty in others, and where I want to take them, and what is possible with Me.

You will become a channel for more of my grace. You will be light. Rivers of living water will flow from you in a dark and dry place. You will change the desert into a garden, because you are the plantation of the Lord. You are planted in the house of God. You are planted in the things of God. Unmovable. Unshakable. As the storms of time increase, you are like a lighthouse that shines.

And remember this: God rejoices over the one, who repents. God rejoices over the one, who turns back to Him. And as it starts with a few, it will surely be many, that return to the true light. That return to the true light and finally will walk with Me again.

So be strong, stay strong, because times require strength that will be richly found in Me. So stay strong and continue on. Set your course and don't divert from it. Don't look to the right and don't look to the left. Don't look, who is going with you and who is against. You just go. Go, go, go, go, go. You just go with Me and I will lead you.
